Levels of Giving

"I can't imagine a sweeter, more peaceful setting..."

In 2006, Hospice of Huntington opened the first fully-dedicated inpatient hospice unit in Huntington, the Emogene Dolin Jones Hospice House. With peaceful views overlooking the Ohio River and beautiful garden landscaping, it has provided serenity for hundreds of patients over the past 15 years.

The EDJHH features 14 private rooms for patients to receive respite, palliative, short-term residential and end of life care. It has met a community need and has become a sacred space for the many families who have been served within its walls.

Over the years, some necessary upgrades have been made, but with the passing of time some fixtures and furnishings have begun to show wear and tear. Your support through the "House Call" capital campaign will help us update these items so patients and families, and our community, will be able to have a peaceful, welcoming space for years to come.

Thank you,

Melanie Hall, President & CEO
